THE UNITED STATES SENATORSHIP.

Since the announcement of Hon. George S. Nixon as a candidate for United States Senator the air is full of rumors regarding the Senatorship. It is intimated that Hon. A. C. Cleveland of White Pine will be in the race, and that he will receive support from the Silver men and get the entire Republican vote. Judge Bigelow's name is also mentioned in connection with the position on the Republican side.

There will be five Republicans in the Legislature—three in the Senate, all hold-overs, and two in the Assembly. As the man who receives the complimentary vote of the Republicans will be expected to be accorded a respectful hearing from Mr. Hanna or Mr. McKinley, whichever may be President, regarding the distribution of Federal pie, it is not probable that Mr. Cleveland will be that man. His course at the St. Louis convention, which he left with other silver Republicans, greatly displeased Mr. Hanna, and his endorsement by the Republican members of the Legislature for United States Senator would be an insult which the new Administration might resent by filling every Federal position in Nevada with carpet-baggers. The pie counter men will therefore give Mr. Cleveland the cold shoulder should he be a candidate for the Senatorship. They voted against the interests of the State for office, and they are not going to jeopardize their chances of getting it by voting for a man who left the St. Louis convention when it declared against silver.

The friends of Senator Jones and of Mr. Nixon are counting noses, but do not agree as to results. Nixon's friends concede all of the Storey delegation, two of the three Assemblymen from Ormsby, and two of the four from Washoe to Senator Jones. The three Assemblymen from Elko and one from Lincoln are also conceded to Senator Jones, but in many of the eastern counties there were no local conventions, all the candidates being Silver men, who, it is claimed, are not pledged to any particular person for Senator. Whether this claim is well founded remains to be seen.

There are nine hold-over Senators, a majority of whom are for Senator Jones. Three of the nine are Republicans, one of whom is known to be a Jones man, and another of whom was pledged by platform to vote for a silver man for United States Senator. Of the six Senators elected last November three are said to be pledged by platform to Senator Jones, which will insure him a majority of the Senate, and if he is defeated the greater part of Mr. Nixon's support must be in the Assembly, though it is claimed that twelve of the thirty members of that body are avowed Jones men.

RAILROAD BUILDING IN 1896.

The Railway Age, which advised every man employed in any capacity on railroads during the recent campaign to vote for a continuance of the gold standard is now forced to admit that the contraction of the currency is not very beneficial to the country. That it has virtually prevented the building of new railroads and the extension of old lines is shown by the statement of railroad construction in 1896. During the year only 1802 miles of railroad were constructed in the United States. This is the smallest mileage of any year since 1875. Track was laid in 38 of the 49 States and Territories of the union. California had 197 miles, Louisiana 154 miles, Michigan 146 miles, Georgia 97 miles, Pennsylvania 80 miles, Wisconsin 86 miles, and Texas 83 miles.

Many railway enterprises were under way early in the year, which would have added hundreds of miles of track, but they were stopped by the financial depression. The Railway Age claims that fully 2,500 miles would have been the record for 1896, but for the silver agitation and the uncertainty of election. Now if the Age is not mistaken there should be a revival in railroad building, but there is no evidence that such is the case. The people in a strip of territory extending from Iowa east to the Atlantic declared for the gold standard by a decisive majority, as did California and Oregon by small majorities, and if the fear of free coinage and more money retarded railroad building the election ought to dispel that fear.

Isn't it possible that the Age is mistaken as to the real cause of the limited number of miles of railroad built in 1896? Isn't it probable that the general depression caused by the scarcity of money, not the fear that more money would be coined, retarded railroad building? If the fear that the election would change the financial policy of the Government caused a suspension of railroad construction the ratification of the Republican national platform, which declared against a financial change, at the Presidential election ought to ease the minds of the men who loan money for building railroads and cause them to open their purses.

HOME RULE FOR CUBA.

The President and Secretary Olney are considering proposals for restoring peace in Cuba. Several plans for peace have been discussed, and if General Weyler cannot practically demonstrate his ability to break the backbone of the rebellion in the next few weeks, as he has claimed to be able to do, the belief is general in Washington that a way can be found for adjusting the existing difficulties in a manner satisfactory to all concerned. There is said to be a decided change of sentiment in Madrid caused by the sympathy expressed for the Cubans in the United States. The plan proposed by the Spanish authorities some months ago provided for a Cuban Congress of thirty members, of whom the Queen Regent was to name fifteen, and the people of Cuba to elect fifteen. It is now proposed to modify this plan and permit the people of Cuba to elect all the members. The entire control of tariff legislation is also to be given the Cubans.

The United States Government will probably use its good offices to bring about a settlement of the Cuban question on the proposed basis and end the struggle which has desolated the island and resulted in the butchery of many of its bravest and most patriotic citizens.

It is now ascertained almost to a certainty that the United States will not recognize Cuban independence. Chambers of Commerce, whose members have more or less trade with Cuba, and the holders of Spanish bonds are opposed to the recognition of the Cubans, and their will is law with the powers that be and the powers that are to be in Washington.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

A. L. Tubbs, President of the Tubbs Cordage Company, died in San Francisco yesterday, aged 69 years.

It is semi-officially denied at Madrid that Spain would accept the good offices of the United States to terminate the war in Cuba.

Wells, Fargo & Co.'s express agent at Congress Junction, Ariz., was held up by a robber, who entered the office and got away with $70.

Colonels Gray and White, Transvaal raiders with Dr. Jameson, were released from Holloway prison, England, yesterday, their sentences having expired.

Every officer in the Conductors' and Motormen's Union in Boston have been discharged, as have all others who took a prominent part in the West End street railway strike.

A delegation of orange-growers from Southern California met at Los Angeles yesterday and organized. The object is to send a delegation to Washington to urge a tariff on citrus fruits.

The Secretary of the Treasury has been officially notified of the seizure of the steamer Three Friends on the coast of Florida upon the return of the vessel from Cuba, where she landed arms and men for the Cubans.

Alfred Holt (colored), who murdered Police Officer White, was taken from jail at Owensboro, Ky., yesterday morning and lynched. Holt is the seventh person who has been lynched by mobs in Kentucky within eight days.

It is officially denied at Washington that any European government has directly or indirectly made any representation whatever to the United States to restrain or prevent its free action in connection with the Cuban insurgents.

General Palma of the Cuban Junta says the Cuban cause is as strong as ever, and the Cubans have strong faith in Rivera, who succeeded Masco as commander of the insurgents. He has 6,000 men at present, with provisions to last six months.

The directors of the defunct National Bank of Illinois had a meeting with Controller Eckels yesterday relative to the affairs of the bank. The Controller informed the directors that he would expect them to use every possible effort to realize on the Calumet Street Railway securities.

Mrs. George Coulter, while decorating a Christmas tree for her four little children in San Francisco, fell over dead. The children thought she was tired and had fallen asleep, and not until her husband arrived at home and entered the parlor was it known that she was dead. Heart disease was the cause.

The Supreme Court of Utah having declared the recent election in Utah valid, the State Board of Canvassers announced the result as follows: Bryan and Sewall, 61,432; McKinley and Hobart, 18,456; Palmer and Buckner, 22,473; For Congressman W. H. King (D.), 47,355; Lafayette Holbrook (R.), 27,813; Warren Foster (P.), 2,279.

The oilroom inside Fort Pickens, on Santa Rosa island, Fla., caught fire. Twenty-seven tons of powder and a large quantity of dynamite was stored in the building, and it was only by the united efforts of a large force that the fire was kept from the powder. It is believed that an attempt will be made to blow up the fort, and the guards have been doubled.

Thursday evening the coal mines at Springville, N. S., were discovered to be on fire. When Inspector Gilpin arrived at the mines flames were issuing from every opening, and means were immediately adopted to subdue the fire. As it is doubtful if work will be resumed during the winter, the closing of the mines will cause great destitution. In 1891 an explosion in these mines caused a loss of 130 lives.

The Secretary of State of California reports to the Board of Examiners that the Soldiers' Home at Yountville is not a State institution, and that thousands of dollars have been illegally paid it by the State. The State Controller, who is responsible for all the money paid out, excepts to the Secretary's statement, and says the Legislature in 1889 passed an act placing the Soldiers' Home entirely under State control, and the fact that the State has never taken possession, and that the Governor has not attempted to appoint directors of the home, does not change the effect of the act.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

HON. TRAVIS PHILLIPS.

He Was Mayor of Aurora, Illinois—A Letter From His Niece.

Hon. Travis Phillips, the gentleman who was taken off the passenger train here recently very ill and who died shortly afterwards, was a man of considerable importance at his home in Aurora, Illinois. The Daily News of that city says he was elected Mayor of Aurora by almost a unanimous vote, only two ballots having been cast against him and during his administration the city was lighted by electricity generated by works owned by the municipality.

Mr. Saunders embalmed the body here and prepared it for shipment. A letter from Lucy A. Carrington, a niece of Mr. Phillips, who was here at the time of his death, writes Mr. Saunders that the body reached its destination in good condition and that the many friends of the deceased were very much pleased with the manner in which it had been prepared. The features looked natural and there was more or less surprise that there was such a skillful undertaker in Nevada. The casket was also much admired and the family and friends of Mr. Phillips were very much gratified.

SENATOR JONES.

He Is Coming to Nevada Some Time Next Week.

A telegram to a friend in Reno from Senator John P. Jones, San Francisco, yesterday says: "Cannot leave here to-day as intended, but will return to Gold Hill in a couple of days." When he returned from Washington a few months ago to his old sagebrush stamping ground, he rendered good account of his senatorial work in behalf of silver and other vital interests of our State of Nevada. After a recuperative rest at his old home in Gold Hill, recovering from his arduous silver campaigning labors in the East, Jones went over to California, took a look at his mining and other interests in that State and now comes home again for a brief visit and consultation with his constituents before returning to his field of Nevada service in Congress, which resumes session in a few days for a fight to a finish before the coming in of the new political administration.

"THE WAIFS OF NEW YORK."

The Play Billed for Next Wednesday.

Plays may come and plays may go, but the "Waifs of New York," like the brook, seems destined to run forever. It comes to us again at the Opera House, Wednesday, December 30, better and brighter than ever. There must be something out of the ordinary in this melodrama that permits it to be played so many seasons. It must be popular with the theater-going public, for managers as a rule do not present an attraction after it has ceased to make money, and Katie Emmett has grown rich during the time she has been impersonating the ragged newsboy in this well known play. And, by the way, there does not seem to be any other subterfuge that attempts this style of character. Whether it appears to be too difficult or not is hard to tell, but Miss Emmett seems to have the field to herself, and her popularity is well deserved, for a brighter and more pleasing person in trousers it would be hard to find.

District Court.

O. C. Powning was adjudged guilty of contempt before Judge Cheney yesterday in not being present as foreman at the convening of the last Grand Jury. Mr. Powning was fined $20, which he promptly paid.

The election contest case of Updike vs. Peers is set for next Monday.

A venire of thirty trial jurors was drawn yesterday to be present in court Wednesday, December 30th, at ten o'clock.

A Kipling Portrait.

He (McPhue) was never a racing engineer and took special pride in saying as much before the Liverpool men, but he had a knowledge of machinery and the humors of ships that he had worked 32 years to gain. One side of his face had been wrecked through the bursting of a pressure gauge in the days when men knew less about pressures than they do now, and his nose rose grandly out of the wreck like a club in a publicist. There were cuts and lumps on his head, and he would guide your forefinger through his short iron gray hair and tell you how he had come by his trademarks. He owned all sorts of certificates of extra competency, and at the bottom of his cabin chest of drawers, where he kept the photograph of his wife, were two or three Royal Humane society medals for saving lives at sea.

Professionally it was different when crazy steerage passengers jumped overboard—professionally McPhue does not approve of saving life at sea, and he has often told me that a new hell is prepared for stokers and trimmers who sign for a strong man's pay and fall sick the second day out. He believes in throwing them overboard at night with word that a bearing is red-hot all because a lamp's glare is reflected red from the twirling metal. He believes that there are only two poets in the world, one being Robert Burns, of course, and the other Gerald Massey. When he has time for novels, he reads Wilkie Collins and Charles Reade, chiefly the latter, and he knows whole pages of "Very Hard Cash" by heart. In the saloon his table was next to the captain's, and he drank only water all the while his engines worked. —Raynard Kipling in McClure's.

Sparrows Play Ball.

A correspondent of the Philadelphia Times, writing from New Orleans, says:

A party of English sparrows seemed to be having a gay time on the roof just outside my window. I usually throw crumbs for them there, and so have frequent visits from the little fellows. There were six in the crowd yesterday, and from their peculiar antics I gathered that they were having a game of some kind. Watching them minutely, I found this to be really the case. I had that morning dropped on the roof a small bit of rubber from the end of my pencil, and this the birds had found and were using as a ball for a serious game of pitch and toss.

Of course I could not discover the run of the game very clearly, but they were evidently playing according to rule. Five of the birds occupied bases, and the little ball was tossed about the miniature diamond at a lively rate. Now and then the little fellows would chatter and chirp and change places, and the sixth bird, who sat perched on a chimney top overlooking the sport, was evidently the umpire, for once or twice, if there were more chattering and chirping than usual, he would hop down and peck at the heads of the players till peace was restored and the game resumed.

The Russian Crown.

The crown used by the Russian czar resembles the dome formed patriarchal mitre, which was a favorite shape among the Byzantines. Upon the summit appears a cross formed of five beautiful diamonds, which is also supported by a large spinel ruby, polished, but not faceted. This ruby and cross are supported by a foliated arch composed of 11 great diamonds and rising from the back and front of the base of the crown. On either side of this central arch is attached a hoop formed of 38 large and perfect pearls. The spaces on either side of these arches are filled with leafwork and ornaments in silver, incrustated with diamonds, underlined with the richest purple velvet. The band which forms the base of the crown is of gold and is ornamented with 38 magnificent diamonds.

BREVITIES.

The costumes for the Knights of Pythias masquerade have arrived and can be seen at the rooms in the Nevada Bank building formerly occupied by Dr. Fee. Chas. E. Davies has them in charge and will be pleased to show them and give rates.

Captain H. J. Thyes is again on deck after a severe illness, and is at the helm. He took his bearings yesterday, and found his latitude and longitude satisfactory, and shaped his course for 1897, and expects to entertain his patrons next Friday, New Year's day.

The Palace Dry Goods and Carpet House offers this week at special sale 25 novelty dress patterns in a beautiful variety of colorings, consisting of 7 yards 40 inches wide material at the low price of $3.50 per suit, which formerly was $5.25. These suits are by far the nicest ever offered at such a price. Take a look at the show windows. The Palace still continues to sell ladies' capes and jackets at greatly reduced prices.

The Ideal Panacea.

James L. Francis, Alderman, Chicago says: "I regard Dr. King's New Discovery as an ideal panacea for coughs, colds and lung complaints, having used it in my family for the last five years, to the exclusion of physicians' prescriptions or other 'preparations'."

Rev. John Burgess, Keokuk, Iowa, writes: "I have been a minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church for 50 years or more, and have never found anything so beneficial, or that gave such a speedy relief as Dr. King's New Discovery." Try this Ideal Cough Remedy now. Trial bottles free at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

A Valuable Prescription.

Editor Morrison of Worthington, Ind., Sun, writes: "You have a valuable prescription in Electric Bitters, and I can cheerfully recommend it for constipation and sick headache, and as a general system tonic it has no equal." Mrs. Annie Steble, 2625 Outings Grove Ave., Chicago, was all run down, could not eat nor digest food, had a backache which never left her and felt tired and weary, but six bottles of Electric Bitters restored her health and renewed her strength. Prices 50 cents and $1. Get a bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store.

THE MODERN MOTHER.

Has found her little ones are improved more by the pleasant Syrup of Figs, when in need of the laxative effect of a gentle remedy than by any other, and that it is more acceptable to them. Children enjoy it and it benefits them. The true remedy, Syrup of Figs, is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Company only.

Governor Bushnell of Ohio has pardoned Isaac Smith, who was sentenced to be hanged in 1889 for the murder of his cousin, Stephen Skidmore. Smith was reprieved nine times, and once was led out to the scaffold to be executed, the officials withholding the reprieve until the last moment, hoping that he would confess. His sentence was finally commuted to imprisonment for life. He always protested that he was innocent, and subsequent developments proved that he did not murder Skidmore.

Diphtheria Cure.

The testimony of a prominent physician:

FOUNTAIN CITY, Ind., June 17, 1895. This certifies that I have been using V. O. in my practice. I have never found any medical preparation in 40 years of practice that is calculated to do so much good in so wide a range of diseases and leave no after bad effects. In Diphtheria it has proved a perfect specific in my hands, and I had rather depend on it alone in that dreadful disease than the whole popular Materia Medica with that left out.

Apple Butter Like Grandmother's.
The first thing to do is to secure some good, sweet cider (apple cider) and boil it half away. This should be done the day before you expect to begin with the apples. I use a porcelain lined kettle that holds five gallons. Boil it half away and let it remain in the kettle overnight on the back of the stove. The advantage of this is it is warm and will begin cooking earlier. As soon as possible the next morning I begin and prepare the apples for as sauce and put into the cider all it will hold. Fill the pot full to the top, and as it cooks soft keep putting in more apples to keep the kettle full until it is quite thick and let cook slowly and stir very often, as it will burn very readily if it is over too hot a fire. It needs to be cooked a long time. I never finish mine in one day; simply move it back on the stove where it will not cook, but keep warm overnight. When it is done, it will be cooked away considerably and thick and dark like a jam or marmalade. Do not sweeten until nearly done, as it burns more quickly, and by cooking away as it does it might be too sweet. Use white sugar and sweeten to taste. I use no spices, as I consider they spoil the flavor of the cider and apples. If they are used, they should be of the very best and carefully added.
This recipe keeps perfectly without being put up airtight. I put it in stone jars and tie a cloth over it merely to keep out dust.—Practical Farmer.

An Old Dog.
It is interesting to study the ceren-tivities of animals. Their freaks and fancies seem to make them almost human. A dear old collie who has been indulged in all sorts of ridiculous whims has recently taken upon himself to resist the habit of his master and mistress in sitting up late. When the dog considers that it is bedtime, he becomes restless and wanders about the room, looking reproachfully at the offenders as much as to say, "Aren't you ever going to take your departure up stairs?" When he becomes convinced that his muto appeals are unheeded, he walks slowly to his accustomed corner and with a deep sigh of dissatisfaction settles himself patiently for the night. The funniest part of this performance is that he never goes to the night in that corner, but the moment the lights are out and he feels sure of not being driven down stairs when he belongs he takes up his quarters at the top of the stairs leading to his master's bedroom. This same dog has been an appreciator of good cake as any human creature. The wag of his tail and the round cake is given to him and the refusal of that tail to wag when praise is offered tell the story as plainly as words.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Salute Your Wife.
Men do not take off their hats to each other. They nod. Many married women complain of their husbands' inactivity in declining to treat them with the politeness they show to their peers. Let all married men remember that marriage does not exempt them from saying their hats both at meeting and saying goodbye to their wives. This oversight has often been the cause of a spirit of rebellion in the young wife, who sees in it a reason for fancying that her husband has ceased to care for her or only regards her as a belonging to whom any of the civilities of life are unnecessary because she is his. In the same way a wife should foster all those pretty little ways of making him feel that he is still her Prince Charming.
Love is so often kept alive by these outward observances that are the harbin-gers of refinement that it behooves all to practice them.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Expert Opinion.
The white gull, circling high in the air over the sand dunes along the lonely shore of the lake, looked with pitying contempt at the wreck of the flying machine far below.
"In my opinion," said the bird, "no inventor will ever have a real flying machine out of his head. The human skull is too thick."—Chicago Tribune.
